

AFTER SCHOOL ART PROGRAM

7 ELEMENTS OF ART

The After School Art Program is a comprehensive approach to teaching basic art education. The 8-month program will focus on the Seven Elements of Art: Line, Shape, Value, Form, Color, Texture and Space. Materials are included in the cost.

October: Line - 3 classes $45

This unit will examine the use of line in art. The objective is to provide students with an appreciation of how lines are used to express moods and movement.

November: Shape - 3 classes $45

When lines come together, they form shapes. In November, students will examine the two-dimensional shapes found in art: rectangles, ovals, squares, and more.

December: Value - 2 classes $30

No, this is not a unit on how to gauge the value of your child's artwork. The answer to that is easy: "priceless." In this unit, we will concentrate on the uses of light and dark in art.

January: Form - 3 classes $45

When you add a third dimension to shape, suddenly you open up a completely different view of art. Squares become cubes. Triangles become pyramids. Circles become spheres. Simply put, Shape becomes Form.

February: Color - 4 classes $60

In this unit, we will examine the importance of color in art. Students will learn the different emotive qualities of color, as well as, how different combinations of color work together to create different moods.

March: Texture - 3 classes $45

How do artists express texture in art? Some actually add texture, creating a tactile experience, where other simply create the illusion of texture. In this unit, we will explore both techniques.

April: Space - 4 classes $60

In this unit, we delve into the hardest of the seven elements: Space. Students will learn how artists convey dimension, depth, and perspective, through lines, shading, and the use of positive and negative space.

May: Artist Workshop 3 classes - $45

This unit will be offered only to students who have attended the "Seven Elements of Art" classes. Details to come.

June: After School Art Show

At the end of the school year, students will be given the opportunity to not only display their artwork, but also sell it if they wish, donating funds to the PTA.
